LAKES in Val di Sole

Val di Sole has an extraordinary abundance of natural water. It is in first place in fact, with almost 100 out of Trentino's total of 297 lakes. It offers an incredibly rich variety of hikes and mountain trails with hugely diverse scenery and mountains ranging from 700 m in the valley bottom to the highest summits at 3700 m. There are three main mountain ranges in the valley: Ortles-Cevedale to the north, Adamello-Presanella to the west, the Brenta Dolomites to the southwest and Maddalene to the east.

THE MOST IMPORTANT RULES FOR HIKING IN THE MOUNTAINS

• never set out alone on a mountain hike; • always tell a relative or friend or the refuge manager the route you intend to take; • take with you equipment suited to the kind of hike you are doing; • prepare carefully for your hike: check the weather forecast, study the route on a map and if necessary, choose an Alpine or Park Guide to accompany you.

RECOMMENDED EQUIPMENT

Waterproof clothing, light and warm (we recommend a base layer on the skin in polypropylene, a second insulating layer in fleece or wool and a third waterproof layer such as a nylon or Gore-Tex windbreaker, long trousers); hiking boots (not sneakers), gloves, hat and a minimum change of clothing (long socks, underwear, light tracksuit if necessary); backpack

CAI DIFFICULTY LEVELS:

- Touristic short routes on minor roads or wide trails that entail no orienteering difficulties.
- For hikers: routes that follow paths of all kinds, usually with signage. They require a certain sense of direction, previous hiking experience and suitable equipment
- For expert hikers: routes that generally have signage and require an ability to walk on certain types of terrain. They require experience in mountain hiking, a steady walking pace, suitable equipment and knowledge of self-belaying devices.
- FFA For equipped expert hikers: this abbreviation is used for prepared or via ferrata routes that require the use of self-belaying devices.

COVEL LAKE at 1839 m

From Peio Paese, a steep tarmacked road near the church leads up to the characteristic hillock of San Rocco. From here, pick up the easy to spot forest road, with typical farmhouses soon visible below the road. After crossing the winter trail, pick up the mule track near an old farmhouse on the right. This easy route that avoids the meadows soon brings you to a climbing wall and after that the small Còvel waterfall. After crossing a tiny wooden bridge, you will come to the biotope of Malga Còvel at 1856 m (1 hour 30').

Return: go past the malga or herdsman's shelter and then the picnic area, around the fields through the clearing in the larch copse and then continue along the SAT 125 trail, an easy to spot rough track, leaving the marshlands to your left, together with a few lovely farmhouses. After a small hillock you will come back to the ski slope. After this you will reach the forest road you walked up on the outward journey (1 hour). You can also reach the lake from here, taking the cable car up to Tarlenta and then on foot along the SAT 127 trail.

THE CORVO LAKES at 2466 m

From the car park above Cavallar, in Piazzola, first walk along the forest road, then follow the SAT 108 trail signs leading to Malga Caldesa Bassa at 1835 m (1 hour). From this herdsman's shelter continue along the easy mule track. After the little bridge, take a sharp right up the steep meadow over Malga Caldesa Alta. Following the SAT 108 trail brings you to the renovated Lago Corvo mountain hut at 2426 m (2 hours 30'). From the hut continue up and after a short while you will come to Passo Rabbi and from here an easy to spot path leads to the first of the Corvo Lakes. The trail rises more steeply until it reaches Superiore Lake. at 2623 m. Above this, a short diversion to the left takes you to the last of the Corvo Lakes, called Terzo Lake, at 2655 m. Return the way you came.

ROTONDO and ALTO LAKES at 2575 m

The route starts in San Bernardo di Rabbi and the road after the village takes you from Pra-longo to the waterfall at Valorz. After a little bridge over the Rabbies River, park your car in the car park at 1245 m. This is the start of the SAT 121 trail that leads to the ruins of Malga Casera at 1956 m and then continues first through the clearing in the larch copse and then over rocky outcrops to beautiful Soprasasso Lake, at 2179 m. Walk around the north-west side of the lake along the path following the cairns to bring you to the magnificent amphitheatre and Rotondo Lake at 2423 m. You can get round it to the right, coming close to Quarto Lake at 2496 m. Come down from the lake through a grassy pass and you will come to the highest of the lakes in Valle di Valorz (4 hours 20). Walk around the left side of the lake and in about 20 minutes you will come to the Valletta mountain pass at 2694, which offers breath-taking views. Return along the same route: 3 hours 30'.

ALBIOLO AND MONTOZZO LAKES 🚲 💙 🕍 at 2743 m

From Passo Tonale drive up to Ospizio San Bartolomeo at 1971 m and the adjacent Hotel La Mirandola, Park here and continue along the SAT 111 trail that leads to Malga Valbiolo, at 2244 m. Then take the trail through the grassy meadows to Passo dei Contrabbandieri (1 hour). From here the route is suitable only for expert mountaineers and winds its way along a via ferrata between ruins from World War One. Via some fairly exposed ledges (Sentiero degli Alpini), you will come to a pass just below Punta Albiolo. Shortly beyond the summit you drop down between trenches and ruined military posts to Forcella di Montozzo at 2613 m, ignoring the via ferrata (3 hours 30'). You then drop about 350 m, leaving the easy to spot path that leads to Pian Palù Lake on your right and veering off to the left at the base of Punta di Montozzo. This hollow is home to no fewer than six splendid Alpine lakes. This diversion takes another 2 hours there and back. Back at Forcella di Montozzo, follow the SAT 111 trail down to the Bozzi Mountain Hut at 2478 m. Just below the mountain hut there are two more wonderful Alpine lakes: Montozzo Superiore at 2416 m and Inferiore at 2403 m. From the mountain hut, the SAT 111 trail takes you back to the Contrabbandieri pass and then up to Malga Valbiolo, where the ski lift works from the start of July to the end of August.

STRINO LAKES at 2578 m

Drive up from Passo Tonale to Ospizio San Bartolomeo at 1971 m and the adjacent Hotel La Mirandola where you can park. Take the dirt road that leads to Malga Valbiolo at 2244 m. You will soon come to a clearing and the start of the SAT 161 trail that winds up through grassy meadows along the crest of Cima Tonale Orientale and takes you to a wide saddle at about 2600 m (1 hour 30'). From the pass, go down to the hollow below where you can see the remains of the so-called "Città Morta" (Dead City) at about 2500 m. Slightly lower down you will come to the turn off for the Strino and Bocchetta di Strino Lakes along the SAT 161 trail (2 hours). A series of small Alpine valleys then lead up to the SAT 137 trail and from there to Lake Inferiore di Strino (2578 m). After this, continue eastwards below the broken boulders of Monte Redival, to Strino Superiore Lake (3 hours). Return along the SAT 137 trail to the turn off for the SAT 160 trail (4 hours 30') that follows an almost completely flat route across the orographic right-hand slope of Valle di Strino and, about an hour after the fork, brings you to the remains of Zaccarana Fort at 2086 m. From there, an easy to spot trail takes you back to your starting point in a splendid circular route (6 hours).

CAPRIOLI (Fazzon) and STABLO LAKES at 1712 m

From Pellizzano follow signs for Caprioli Lake and park near Malga Bassa at 1280 m (parking must be paid for in the summer). Take the SAT 203 trail that starts next to the herdsman's shelter and, ignoring the turn off to the Alpino Mountain Hut, turn right and after a few steep turns and a little wooden bridge you will come to a wide clearing (20') with signs for Malga Alta di Pellizzano, Malga Artuick and Passo di Val Gelada.

Cross the forest road and follow the SAT 203 trail with its wooden signposts up through the meadow, coming out near Malga Alta di Pellizzano or Malga di Sopra at 1546 m (40'). Follow signs for Baita Regina del Bosco just above the summer pasture from the herdsman's shelter and in about 30 minutes you will reach Stable Lake at 1712 m, today almost entirely peat bog. Return: walk down through the wood below Malga Alta and when you come to the clearing follow signs southwards to Caprioli Lake (Fazzon Lake) at 1321 m (3 hours).

MALGHETTO DI MEZZANA LAKES 🚲 💛 🕅 at 2023 m

Drive to Marilleva 1400 and park near the church. Follow signs for Residence Artuick, under the bridge for the ski slope. Then up on the forest road and you will shortly come to a bridge over the river. Cross this and continue to the right along the rough track, ignoring all the turn offs. Continue along the SAT 202 trail. The forest road narrows to become a mule track leading to a lovely hollow and Malghetto Copai at 1986 m. Shortly after the herdsman's shelter you will come to the first of the two little lakes at 2001 m (1 hour 30'). To reach Superiore Lake, continue along the path to the right and, ignoring the turn off for Croce della Pace, go slightly uphill to this little lake at 2023 m (30'). Go back the same way you came (1 hour). Alternative route: from Marilleva 1400 take the ski lift to Malga Panciana. From here follow the SAT 201 trail to Orti Mountain Hut and continue through Val Lores until you come to the SAT 202 trail that leads to the lakes (1 hour 30').

From the Baita Regazzini car park in Malè, follow the SAT 374 trail up, crossing the forest road several times. Where the trail widens at a certain point turn right towards Val del Mezòl, continuing along the same path to the Mezol M. Gregori shelter at 1495 (2 hours). From here the forest road goes up to the left and, close to the first hairpin bend, pick up the SAT 374 trail to the Peller Mountain Hut at 2022 m, characterised by a small lake (3 hours 45). The SAT 337 trail goes up from the Peller Mountain Hut, with some stretches involving artificial steps, metal ropes and a ladder, to Cima Peller at 2320 m (4 hours 45). From the top, walk down through the steep grassy meadows towards the rocky pass between the Peller and Pellerot mountains. This will soon take you to Malga Tassulla-Bivacco G. Pinamonti at 2090 m. From the pastures, the SAT 336 trail leads to splendid Pian della Nana and then north to Passo della Forcola at 2104 m

From the pass it's a short walk down the SAT 308 trail, turning off to the left to reach Salare Lake. Once past the lake and back on the trail, continue to Malga Clesera at 1887 m (6 hours). From here the SAT 308 trail takes you down into the meadow and back to the forest road that leads to Prà della Selva. After six sharp bends, this little road joins the forest road which links up again with the SAT 308 trail (8 hours). Following the signs will bring you back to your starting point (1 hour Two days are recommended for this route.

FIVE LAKES TRAIL at 2373 m

There are two possible routes up to the Viviani Mountain Hut (Pradalago at 2082 m): from Malga Zeledria on the SAT 265 trail or, a longer route, up from Campo Carlo Magno via Malghette Lake. Whichever route you choose, you should use the Pradalago cable car from Madonna di Campiglio to reach the starting point. Once at the refuge, take the Bozzetto via ferrata for about 5 minutes and then follow the SAT 226 trail signs that lead to near Serodoli Lake at 2373 m (1 hour 15). Walk around the left-hand side of the lake near a small dike. Continue on the level and then uphill again on the SAT 232 trail that leads to the eastern bank of Lambin Lake at 2328 m (2 hours). From this beautiful lake just above the path, walk up until you reach a small pass that then leads along an easy to spot trail to Passo Ritort at 2277 m. Then down steeply to Ritorto Lake below, at 2071 m. Close to the lake, take the SAT 232 trail on the left for an easy walk to the Ristorante 5 Laghi, and from there the cable car will take you back down to Madonna di Campiglio (3 hours).

Alternatively, from Ritorto Lake, you can head southwest down the SAT 255 trail for about an hour, which will bring you to the large scenic pastures and Malga Ritorto at 1747 m. From here a tarmacked road leads to the car park in Patascoss (1 hour).

CEVEDALE LAKES at 2705 m

Drive the tarmacked road from Cogolo to Malga Mare (10 km). Park your car and take the SAT 201 trail to Pian Venezia (1 hour). Continue along the easy to spot route to the Larcher mountain hut at 2608 m (2 hours). From the hut, take the SAT 104 trail up to the east and you will shortly come to Marmotte Lake (2 hours 30'). Leaving the lake behind you, follow the easy SAT 123 trail that passes close to Lungo Lake to reach the banks of small Nero Lake, just before the artificial reservoir of Careser. Walking across the crest of the big dam will bring you to the facility buildings (3 hours 30').

The 123 trail takes you down a sharply winding route through broken boulders. Continuing this zigzag path takes you through a lovely wood with characteristic Swiss pines and a short diversion (15 minutes) brings you to tiny Lame Lake at 2275 m. Back on the trail after the rocky section you will come to your starting point along well-marked paths.

PIAN PALÙ and LAGOSTEL LAKES 👧 🎔 🕍 at 2455 m

From Peio Fonti, drive the easy tarmacked road to Fontanino di Peio at 1670 m and park. Take the steep rough track on the right until you come to a small resting area on the banks of Pian Palù Lake.

From the banks of the lake, a mule track takes you back up the meadows below Malga Giumella. From here follow the rough track around the edge of the wood to the resting area and then continue along the SAT 141 trail (Percorso della Fauna) to pretty Lagostel Lake (2 hours 30'). From here, head north down into majestic Val Piana with Malga Paludei on your left at 2106 m. Take the SAT 110 trail down to the meadow below, along the banks of the Noce River to Malga Palù at 1822 m and then, following the right-hand side of the Pian Palù artificial reservoir after an hour you will come to Malga di Celentino at 1841 m and from here a short downhill stretch takes you to the car park.

STERNAI LAKES at 2862 m

From the car parks in Coler, in the summer a shuttle bus service takes you up to Malga Stablasolo at 1539 m. (On foot it takes 30 minutes). From the herdsman's shelter, take the SAT 106 trail and, leaving the spectacular Cascate di Saént (waterfalls) on your left, you will come to Dosso della Croce at 1799 m (45 minutes). Through Prà di Saént with the herdsman's shelter of the same name at 1784 m (1 hour) continue along the SAT 106 trail to Dorigoni Mountain Hut at 2437 m (3 hours 30'). Just below the mountain hut, the tiny lake at 2410 m is a must visit. From the Dorigoni mountain hut, follow the easy to spot signs along the sharply winding trail until you come to Sternai Inferiore Lake at 2595 m (20 minutes). Then go back up northwards until you come to little Sternai Inferiore Lake at 2862 m (1 hour 30' from the refuge). The return journey follows the outward route to Sternai Superiore Lake at 2777 m and follows the path with its cairns to Sternai Medio Lake at 2742 m. From here the trail descends steeply to meet the SAT 101 trail, which takes you quickly back to the hut. Return: from the refuge following the outward route (2 hours).

MONTICELLO LAKES

at 2599 m

From near the Paradiso Motorhome Park at Passo Tonale, follow the fitness route along the SAT 281 trail until you come to a rough track off a sharp bend that, after the tunnel, leads to the old Presena site just below the Presena riverbed. Close to the site there are signs to the right of the old chairlift station. Continue along the mule track and then take the easy to spot path that brings you almost to the edge of the rocky outcrop over the ruins of the military

This brings you to a small pass into the hollow of Passo Paradiso (2569 m) where you can see the ski lifts (3 hours). From the pass, continue southwards to Monticello Inferiore Lake at 2544 m. After the lake, take the easy to spot path that leads to Capanna Presena and shortly afterwards you will come to the Monticello Medio and Superiore Lakes. Follow the outward route to return (2 hours 30') or you can take the ski lift to Passo Tonale.

DENZA LAKE at 2340 m

Three km outside Vermiglio on the road to Passo Tonale, pick up the provincial road for Velon Stavel. Follow it for about 2 km until you come to the road signposted for Rifugio Denza on the right. Then take the rough military track to the car park near the Pozzi Alti Fort at 1879 m (6 km). Pick up the SAT 234 trail east to Passo Tonale, until you come to the ruins of Pozzi Alti Fort, also known as Presanella Fort. After the fort, take the narrow military mule track on the left. When you get to a grassy hollow at about 2100 m, the trail first ascends through rocky outcrops and then crosses a via ferrata over a steep gorge that leads to the Pozzi Alti mountain pass at 2606 m (1 hour 45'). From the pass, the descent towards Denza Lake (2314 m) follows a route through rocks and broken boulders, with some sharp zigzags, soon bringing you to the Denza Mountain Hut, at 2298 m (3 hours). Return down the SAT 206 trail from the Denza Mountain Hut to the car park near the Pozzi Alti Fort (1 hour).

BARCO and PICCOLO LAKES at 2316 m

A 2 km drive from Ossana will bring you to the car park in Valpiana. Walking back along the road for about 300 m, close to the shrine you will see signs for Malga del Dosso on the right. Follow the forest road and SAT 204 trail to the Malga del Dosso meadow at 1680 m (1 hour shelter). Continue to the left to the turn off with signs for Barco Lake. Now the route winds along the crest of the mountain, initially on the flat and then slightly downhill to a marshy hollow. Cross this and follow signs back into the wood of larch and alder trees where the uphill trail will take you to the small wooden shelter on the banks of picturesque Barco Lake at 1908 m (2 hours 45').

Follow the SAT 205 trail slightly uphill around the lake and over ledges up through and out of the wood. Once over the last rocky ledge, you will come to a tiny hollow and characteristic Piccolo Lake at 2316 (4 hours). Return: back down the way you came in 3 hours.

Alternative route: from San Leonardo Lakes/Bar Centro Fondo di Vermiglio cross the river and start along the forest road to Ossana until you come to the SAT 205 trail that leads to the Lakes (2 hours 30').

It can easily be reached from different starting points: by car to Malga di Dimaro at 1670 m and continuing along the SAT 265 trail that leads to the lake (1 hour) via Malga Vigo. Or you can use the Daolasa cable car up to the Solander Mountain Hut - Alpe Daolasa at 2045 m. From here it is an easy walk up to the Orso Bruno Mountain Hut on the summit of Monte Vigo at 2180 m (30'). Then follow the SAT 201 trail down to the lake (30'). As an alternative from Alpe Daolasa you can take the path that, via Busa del Vigo, reaches the lake around Monte Vigo (1 hour). This last path can also be reached by taking the Folgarida cable car and continuing along the dirt road towards the Solander Mountain Hut. Both the trails can also be reached by taking the Copai cable car up from Marilleva to malga Panciana at 1886 m and continuing towards Monte Vigo. Another way to reach the lake is by car to Residence Rio Falzè, just before Passo Campo Carlo Magno, then up along the forest road on the right to the turn off for Malga Vigo. MOUNTAIN HUTS in Val di Sole

The mountain hut, a place for pausing whose name says it all: spaces and hospitality with no frills, but also without any hardship, where the effort of arriving is compensated for by the warmth of the environment and the cordial welcome of the owners and, last but by no means least, enticing food and wine discoveries. All the trails are evident and well marked, with signs in red and white and the relative trail number in black.

IMPORTANT

Before setting out for a mountain hut, it is a good idea to check it is actually open as, in adverse weather conditions, it may close early.
